This sandbox uses a whitelist approach with a custom resource monitor. The input for this sandbox is any python file, but there doesn't need to be a file extension. The file is then executed.